The graph shows the relationship between Normal Force (N) and time (sec) over a range of 30 seconds. The Normal Force oscillates between approximately 300 and 400 N, with a period of about 5 seconds. The upper graph represents the Normal Force, while the lower graph shows the Ratio, which remains relatively constant over time.