 21. What are the major strengths of this class? What is helping you to learn? (Q979)
 - ◊ I like how it connects to the real world and the instructor tells us more about how the classes can be applied in a job setting. The class is very hands on which helps me learn.
 22. How can Nicole Hamilton improve this class? If possible, give specific examples. (Q980)
 - ◊ I think she is doing a really great job, sometimes though I think it would help to go through the slides slower especially at the end of class; sometimes it feels like we are just rushing through them without understanding anything.
 23. Please enter any additional comments you have for Nicole Hamilton. (Q981)

- ◊ lots of information is provided and it's easily accessible outside of lecture.
22. How can Nicole Hamilton improve this class? If possible, give specific examples. (Q980)
- ◊ speak more to the projects and labs. the biggest issue with eecs280 is that the projects & labs and lectures are treated as being completely separate; labs and projects are hardly mentioned in class as if they're some big secret. this is not a cohesive method of assigning work outside of lecture.

 - ◊ The projects are the single greatest thing which helps me to consolidate my knowledge for the material. Truly great works.
 22. How can Nicole Hamilton improve this class? If possible, give specific examples. (Q980)
 - ◊ If she could point us to outside sources more often as in readings or problems for us to try on our own I think that could help supplements and reinforce some of the material done in class.

- 21. What are the major strengths of this class? What is helping you to learn? (Q979)
 - ◊ There are so many resources available (both provided by the class and recommended online resources) that students always have access to something to help them better understand what they're working on.
- 22. How can Nicole Hamilton improve this class? If possible, give specific examples. (Q980)
 - ◊ I personally feel that examples can drag on for longer than necessary (or that more examples are given than necessary), but this is a personal issue and due to having prior knowledge of many of the ideas that we are learning in class.

 - ◊ The frequent projects and labs are very useful, as they allow me to apply the concepts learned in class almost immediately.
22. How can Nicole Hamilton improve this class? If possible, give specific examples. (Q980)
 - ◊ More visuals on the slides would be nice. For example, along with a code snippet introducing a new concept, a diagram/schematic would also be helpful.

- 21. What are the major strengths of this class? What is helping you to learn? (Q979)
 - ◊ Having the slides online to recheck is very useful knowing that the notes I take in class are not very good. Still, Hamilton is a great lecturer that always has a good, thorough answer for students
- 22. How can Nicole Hamilton improve this class? If possible, give specific examples. (Q980)
 - ◊ I don't want to write down whole blocks of code into my notes. While it is good practice for exams, it seems that I can't get it all down in time before we are on to the next topic, and I just give up writing it down. This also makes it tough and go back and study my notes, and since I'm a big paper and pencil guy, that makes it really tough.

- ◊ I need a place to apologize for my effort on project 2. I got a 55% on it and I had to submit an incomplete project. For the University of Michigan, this is completely unacceptable. I have a higher standard for myself, and I plan to stick to those standards. I just needed to say sorry to someone.
